STATE BANK GRANTED LICENSE, WILL REOPEN SATURDAY MORNING

Complies with Demands of State Auditor; Brook
in Chicago Today

Word was received late this afternoon that the State Bank of Antioch will open Saturday morning ready to do business, the license for re-opening having been granted today by the state auditor. The bank has been closed since the state moratorium was declared, Mar. 4.

With all deposit waivers returned and the requirements of State Auditor Barrett met, it is understood that the State Bank of Antioch will open possibly Saturday and not later than next week unless some technicality causes a further delay.

J. Ernest Brook, president of the bank, is in Chicago today, conferring with state banking officials as to the date of opening. While nothing definite as to the date of opening will be known until the license has been granted by the state department, officials of the State Bank have hope that the bank will open not later than next week.

W. F. Ziegler, cashier of the bank, stated this noon that waivers have all been returned and that the bank has met with wonderful co-operation from the depositors. It is believed that Mr. Brook will have definite information as to the date of opening when he returns from Chicago tonight.

W. E. Drom Named Correspondent For Farm Loan Commission

Will Assist Farmers Who Seek Aid Under Emergency Mortgage Act

E. J. Bodman, Agent of Farm Loan Commissioner, having charge of the Sixth Federal Land Bank District of Illinois, Missouri, and Arkansas, has appointed W. E. Drom of Antioch, Ill., as correspondent for Lake County for the Agent of the Farm Loan Commissioner. Mr. Drom has been furnished with application blanks, printed matter, and information, and is in a position to assist farmers who wish to avail themselves of the privilege of securing loans as provided for under Part 3 of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933.

Bodman requests that farmers who are interested confer with Mr. Drom or the Lake County Farm Bureau in order that application blanks may be properly made out, and information given which will enable the farmer to determine whether his case will be covered by the Emergency Farm Loan Act.

The Agent further states that the land will be appraised by appraisers of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis, and that which governs for the Land Bank will apply to his class of loans, except that up to 75 per cent of the normal value of the land and permanent insurable improvements to a maximum loan limit of $5,000.00 may be made, instead of 50 per cent.

The Lake County Farm Bureau is giving the farmer of Lake County the latest information on these loans and is working hand in hand with Mr. W. E. Drom of Antioch, County Correspondent.

Besch was formerly employed by the Antioch Sales and Service Garage. He is regarded as an expert mechanic.

High School Nine Plays Deciding Game with Team from Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights will play the decisive game of the Northwest High School Conference baseball season this afternoon at the High School against the Antioch team. The game, scheduled for last Friday but postponed, decides the winner of the conference championship.

Lake Villa Pastor Advises Youth to Pioneer in Talk

Although the frontier has disappeared, there is still opportunity for pioneering, the Rev. C. J. Hewitt of Lake Villa stated in his Memorial Day address to the graduates last Sunday night. The fields of science, business, and religion were among the fields named by Mr. Hewitt as offering opportunity for the pioneer. S. E. Pollock presided at the services held at the Antioch Township High School Auditorium.

RISING PUBLISHES DETAILED REPORT OF SUPERVISOR'S OFFICE

Complies with Law, Giving Taxpayers Report of Town Finances

Supervisor William A. Rosing has compiled and caused to be published in this edition of the Antioch News a complete report of receipts and expenditures of his office for the fiscal year ending April 30. The report, which appears on page three, is published in compliance with Illinois statutes, chapter 2, sections 1 and 2 relating to the publication of statements by public officers who receive and disburse public funds.

Supervisor Rosing's statements will be found complete and enlightening to the taxpayers of the township. In many instances names of those who received poor aid from the township are omitted, this information not being required since the actual disbursements were made to merchants and others who supplied merchandise and services upon order from the supervisor. These orders then were turned into the supervisor's office and the disbursements made in a lump sum of stated intervals as shown in the supervisor's statement.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Illinois statute is plain and explicit regarding the publication of annual statements by those who receive and disburse public funds, there are many supervisors in Lake County who after year have ignored the law in this respect.

Here It Is!

To Be Published (Sec. 2) Such public officer shall also, within thirty days after the expiration of such fiscal year, cause a true, complete and correct copy of such statement to be published one time in a newspaper published in the town, district or municipality in which such public officer holds his office, or, if no newspaper is printed and published in such town, district or municipality, then in the nearest newspaper printed in the English language published in the county in which such public officer resides. Chap. 102, Sec. 6.

A prominent Lake county man is quoted recently as saying: "A public official who takes the taxpayers into his confidence can not be far wrong." It is also recalled that several supervisors quit their jobs within the year, and that one such supervisor resigned following The Antioch News' expose of the operation of a successful printing racket in Lake county. It is understood that at least one other supervisor, who is known to have fed illegally at the county's public trough for many years, is now being pressed to relinquish his office because of his persistent refusal to "place his cards upon the table."

Supervisor Rosing deserves high commendation for having placed the facts relating to his office before the taxpayers, who are the ones who really pay the bills.

Fox Lake Boy Wins Prize With Birdhouse Made from Section of Tire

William Wlenczko won first prize of one dollar in the birdhouse contest sponsored by the Fox Lake Garden club recently in which forty-two birdhouses from the seventh and eighth grades were entered. The first prize house was made from a section of an auto tire.

Second prize went to Ray Walk with a marin house done in colorful Japanese effect made from a nail keg. A log cabin with a red chimney won third prize for Jack Trope and Fred Jensen won honorable mention with a house made of natural birch bark. Judges in the contest were Miss Masteron and Miss McNeely of Lake Villa School and J. L. Miller of Gavin School.

Fox Lake Is Scene of Holiday Drowning

Chicago Woman Is Unable to Save Herself When Boat Capsizes

A Memorial Day ride in a motor boat resulted in the drowning of Mrs. Margaret Bowerman, 40 years old, of Chicago at Mineola Bay, Fox Lake, Tuesday afternoon, when the boat capsized. The body was recovered by a life saving crew, but more than an hour of effort for resuscitation proved futile.

Four friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Babo, a Mrs. Helsz and a Mrs. O'Hara, who were in the boat with Mrs. Bowerman, were rescued by Alex Korecksther, William Vermacek and John Mrazek, who, standing in front of the National Athletic clubhouse, saw the accident and went to the rescue in row boats.

The boat capsized about a quarter of a mile from shore when an attempt was being made to start the motor which had stopped. Mrs. Bowerman was unable to grasp the overturned craft and sank below the surface of the water.

The life saving crew which rescued the body was composed of Albert Kaplan, Joseph Cuarter, George Marvin, Robert Burleigh and Earl Rushmore.

Garden Club Plans Display for Century of Progress

Legion Remembers World War Dead

County Collects Almost 50 Per Cent of Taxes

County Treasurer Jay B. Morse of Lake County disclosed this week that a total of more than $2,150,000 in 1932 taxes, now in his office, indicates a 50 per cent tax collection should be nearly by June 15.

The penalty date is today. On that date Morse expects several large late-comers, including the North Shore Electric, to make payment rather than incur the 1 per cent accumulative penalty.

There were no office hours yesterday but today, the last date before the penalty, will see a crowded treasurer's office, Morse says. Payments in Waukegan are said to be the slowest in years.

Total taxes extended for the county in 1932 were $5,255,336.

VOTERS TO BALLOT ON DRY REPEAL AND ELECT JUDGES MON.

Three Circuit Judges to Be Elected; G. O. P. Incumbents Are in Race

The question of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the election of a judge to the seventh district supreme court and three circuit judges for the seventeenth district comprising Lake, McHenry, Boone and Winnebago counties, will come up Monday when voters in Antioch Township will find the polls at their respective precincts open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Names of fifty electoral voters for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and fifty against the repeal appear on the separate ballot which will decide whether Illinois is the ninth state to ask for repeal. Voters will be allowed to vote for fifty electoral voters, for or against the repeal, by placing a check in the circle at top of either column. Single votes may be cast by placing a check opposite the name of the candidate.

In the circuit judgeship race, three Republican incumbents, Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan, Judge Edward D. Shurtliff of Marengo, and Judge Arthur E. Fisher of Winnebago County, are opposed by a lone Democratic candidate, Attorney Charles Carpenter of Crystal Lake.

Legarthy on the part of the Lake County voters has caused some concern at county Republican headquarters. Failure to elect Judge Dady will leave Lake County with no representatives and necessitate having a visiting judge to hear all cases, G. O. P. leaders warn.

Some concern has also been expressed throughout the district because of the criticism leveled against Shurtliff, particularly on the score of freeing Fur Sammons, convicted murderer and robber, from Joliet recently.

Judge Dady, who has support of a major kind in his home county, appears to have more than an even chance of victory at the polls Monday. His record has been clean, and he has the undivided endorsement of the Lake County G. O. P. organization as well as strong support from leading Democrats, including Major E. R. Parnass, one of Lake County's Jeffersonian stalwarts, who has come out openly for Judge Dady, characterizing the local jurist as "hard working up-right, impartial and a highly competent judge, who merits the support of all citizens of all parties."

100 Fishing Licenses Sold; Season Opens Today

More than 100 fishing licenses have been sold up until today which marks the opening of the season on bass, Roy L. Murrie, village clerk, announces. Non-resident fishing licenses can also be obtained from the clerk this year. Because of the demand in the past for out-of-state licenses by fishermen who wished to fish in Wisconsin, Mr. Murrie procured these licenses this year.

THE FARMER'S DISCOVERIES

Perhaps the most encouraging phase of the farmer's troubles is that they have caused him to look with a new, and inquiring mind on economic and social problems.

He has discovered that the world has changed much—that methods that were good thirty years ago are disastrous now. He is finding out that no one can prosper alone in a world in which the interests of every business, every producer, are inextricably intermingled. He is finding that the co-operative ideal—whether in industry, or agriculture, or simply social relations—points the road to stability and permanence.

During the depression thousands of farmers have rejoined cooperatives. Thousands of others have redoubled their efforts in behalf of their cooperative, where before they simply held "passive" memberships. These are the farmers that are applying real business methods to farming and that are in line to profit in the future.

THE GRADUATES

This June, like the Junes of last year and the years before, will turn millions of young graduates from the high schools and colleges of this country into the world, ready to measure life in the terms of formulas which are set forth in books, but totally ignorant of the measurements which are taught by experience and of the severity of life's tests.

To the child, living in itself is an end; man requires a guiding purpose, a goal towards which to direct his footsteps. Setting his goal, youth sees the crown of triumph, at the most, a few years' march ahead, and when achievement; like the rainbow, a

Mrs. H. J. Nelson and daughter, Miss Olive, also Mrs. May Johnson of deceptive mirage, recedes as he advances, youth meets his steepest test.

It is unconquerable youth which says, "I am the captain of my soul" and the world is my apple waiting to be plucked. Books and the most sincere teachers have no weapons with which to fortify youth against frustrations which are inevitably met when he stretches for the stars.

If the graduates could be sent out into the world with a sound philosophy of life in place of their diplomas, if they could be given vision which would make translucent the darkest hours, life would hold for them few disappointments, and life also, would lose its zest, for an existence in which the routes mapped out, leaving no cause for exploration and discovery, would be devoid of the cherished associations which come of personal experience.

The forty young men and women who will be graduated from Antioch High School Monday night, with other graduates of this year, will find a world in which opportunity offers no wide, open entrances to any field. That, in itself, will bring discouragement at the start to those not among the few who will go on to college or find work waiting for them. But in a world which is discouraged and stagnant, there is more need than in yesterdays for the fresh visions of youth, and there is still opportunity for the young man and young woman, who have persistence and initiative to cut their niches in the world, shaping them for their own.

Whether they go on with their studies, or start their search for work, these graduates will meet problems of whose existence they are not now aware. They have before them the task of shaping their lives. Disappointments, triumphs which will melt to nothing when they are clutched, and those inner victories which bring the deepest satisfaction, will come to them in the course of their lives.

Some will find the philosophy of life which brings success within the man; some in their groping for the answer to life, will accept less than the truth. For twelve years, the school system has striven to give them a background with which to start their individual careers. What they put into the foregrounds, depends on themselves, their methods of tackling life, their manners of meeting defeat, their abilities to distinguish sham from reality.

Waukegan called on Mr. and Mrs. James Atwell last Saturday.

School closed last Friday with a picnic, which, because of rain, was held indoors, but was an enjoyable affair nevertheless. On Saturday morning, Miss McNeely and Miss Masterson went to Chicago to present at the opening of the Century of Progress. In the evening they took the train for their homes in Central Illinois to spend the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Frye will remain in our village for a few weeks after the close of school as their young son, Charles, Jr., has developed a case of measles. Billy Effinger and Junior Miller also have the measles, and Jean Culver was obliged to miss the last week of high school at Antioch because of measles.

The younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly was removed to the Lake county general hospital on Saturday, suffering from scarlet fever.

Royal Neighbors are urged to be present.

D. R. Manzer was taken ill quite suddenly early last week and was unable to care for his duties at the bank, but was very ably taken care of by Kenneth Hart, who has had banking experience. We are glad to report that Mr. Manzer is improving.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the Aid Society room below the Lake Villa Cafe on Wednesday afternoon, June 7, and Mrs. Grace Millar and Mrs. Frank Nader will be hostesses. You are welcome.

Speed of Falling Bodies

Experiments have proved that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is thirty-two feet. If a ball be allowed to fall from a tower, it is moving at the rate of thirty-two feet per second at the end of the first second after it has dropped from the hand; at the end of the next second with a velocity of sixty-four feet, and at the end of the third second at the rate of ninety-six feet per second.

Fish Fished Fisherman

A sixteen-year-old lad, of Tazewell, Illinois, while fishing at the mouth of a river was carried more than 50 yards out to sea by a big fish. Then he re-hung his rod and swam back to safety. Two fishermen went out in a boat and picked up the rod. A big fish then sprang to the surface, broke the line and escaped.

Man's Supremacy

Scientists tell us that what has life ed man above the brute creation with which he has so much in common is the fact that he can touch each of his fingers with his thumb! No other living thing can do that. Try experiments with your own hand and see what a difference it would make if you could not do this simple seeming act.

Red Indian Surgeons

It is evident that American Indians had knowledge of surgery, since trepanned skulls of aborigines are still in existence. It is probable that their surgeons also performed amputations.

Fairly Healthy

"Health is only a disease," says a local critic. Except for a slight cold now and then, we have been in fairly good health all year.—Toledo Blade

YOU CAN ESCAPE DENTAL DECAY

There are communities in the world which are almost dentally perfect. One of the most interesting of these is the remote little island of Tristan da Cunha in the south Atlantic Ocean, midway between Africa and South America. This is encouraging news to a world full of people with nothing teeth, for it proves that it is possible, without any elaborate precautions, to have good, sound teeth, for obviously the islanders had no special knowledge of the subject that is kept from us. Too many people nowadays just sit back and resign themselves to tooth troubles as inevitable. As a matter of fact, most people could avoid toothache altogether, if they made use of the simple preventive measures known to be practical—proper diet, cleanliness of teeth and regular dental examinations. Practically, you cannot afford not to prevent dental disease, because "curing" them is so expensive. Of course, in the real sense of the word, you can't cure dental decay at all, for once a permanent tooth is lost it is gone forever.

Investigations of the dental conditions on this island, reported in the British Medical Journal, showed that the people's teeth were strong, regular and well-formed. The general health of the natives was also unusually good. All the people had exceptionally good teeth and 81 per cent of them had perfect mouths.

Diets Secret of Healthy Teeth.

Knowing the close relation of diet and teeth, the scientists studied the islanders' diet. They found that, if consisted chiefly of fish, potatoes, milk, eggs, and some vegetables such as cabbage and turnips, and that there was a striking absence of sugar and cereals.

The diet used was rich in calcium and phosphorus and vitamins, which are known to be the elements that produce healthy teeth. It was lacking in those foods that tend to cause diseased teeth. Therefore, the investigators came to the conclusion that the peculiar diet of these islanders was the only likely explanation for their excellent dental condition.

This is just one more bit of evidence proving that it is not enough just to take care of the outside of the teeth by keeping them clean. In order to have good teeth, we must also build and nourish them from the inside, by eating the right foods and avoiding those foods that tend to encourage decay.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 22, 1933

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself.

The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery.

There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users.

We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer—it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience.

We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

Cultivating Pleasing Tone and Pitch Will Add Charm to Voice

Musical Speech Will Create An Illusion of Beauty

More interesting than the Cinderella angle of the choice of a famous restaurant cashier as the Century of Progress beauty queen, is the list of qualities which were considered by the judges in making the selection.

Beauty of face and figure alone were not adequate to place the crown on any girl's head, for the beauties from widely distributed sections of the United States, from two foreign countries, England and France, paraded, talked, sat down and rose to give the judges ample opportunity to judge their carriage, poise, grace and voices.

Although most women these days have their creams, powders and lipsticks for beautifying the face, and nearly as many women restrict their diets, take exercises, wear garments which mould the contour, or at least choose their clothes to emphasize the best points of their figures, we rarely hear of a woman who gives attention to the cultivation of poise, grace in movement, or charm of voice.

The tones and expression of the voice are not sent back in the mirror's reflection, but when the mirror's reflection is plain and undistinguished, a beautifully modulated voice will create an illusion of beauty, and it is more easily cultivated than a new set of features or type of figure.

Shrill Voices Disturbing
Actual training for the speaking voice is something few women care to afford or spend time in, but a surprising improvement can be made in the voice and the speech by a conscious personal effort.

High shrill voices are actually nerve wracking as well as disturbing to the listener. The voice which is pitched too high, has a quality of tenseness which stimulates further tenseness in the speaker and those within hearing distance. Voices become shrill and high-pitched under stress of emotion, in anger, in sudden hurried excitement. The only cure is a schooled effort to speak slowly and to pitch the voice low. At first, controlling the pitch of the voice may seem unnatural, but eventually as the practice becomes a habit, the voice will assume a normally low, pleasant tone.

Voices which are hoarse or which have the nasal twang which Eastern and Southern persons consider an unpleasant characteristic attached to all Midwesterners, are quite as displeasing as the shrill voice, although they perhaps are less disturbing. Constant striving to speak low, in a well-modulated tone, will add beauty to the voice.

Speaking Jargon

Although tones and pitch determine the actual sound of the voice, careful enunciation and pronunciation are equally important in pleasing speech. A lovely face can become absurd when the owner says "Doncha know," or "y'understand." Careless speech, running words together, in a hopeless jumble, talking in a monotonous drone, are all common faults with men as well as men through the midwest. Speaking jargon, an unintelligible jumble of words, detracts from any distinction of hearing or face or figure which the speaker may possess.

Training the voice to loveliness takes considerable more time and effort than rouging the lips or powdering the nose, but on the other hand, the result is more permanent, and considering that the face must be refinished several times a day, equal efforts devoted to the voice would achieve beauty of inflection, perfection of pitch and develop a clear, distinct enunciation.

Reading aloud is an excellent method of voice training. If you are eager to develop an interesting voice, read Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," "Much Ado About Nothing," and "Macbeth," clearly and with expression. Playa nut poetry are the best material for this training, the first because drama deals with situations which call forth expression, and the latter because of its rhythm.

Training one's ear for speech perceptions and imperfections, will also be an aid. Attend the theatre or the talkies and with particular attention to the enunciation and expression of those professional voices. Notice whether your voice as well as your words, expresses your meaning when you talk. Avoid droning, running your words together, and losing control of your voice.

Six weeks of attention to your voice will change your speech and

Cool Drinks With Piquancy Are Favorite Refreshments of Summer

A favorite refreshment of summer is the cool, piquant drink which the thoughtful hostess serves as an stimulant for the flagging or jaded spirits of warm guests. Cool drinks are especially welcome to the afternoon caller, to afternoon and evening bridge guests as a break in the conclusion of a game of golf, the aftermath of an evening of dancing, or for those returning at the end of a day of work, in that interval of waiting before dinner or supper is ready.

Drinks made with fruit ice, offer something different for the summer party. For every two cups of liquid in your favorite drink recipe, add one cup of orange, lemon, lime or cherry ice.

Sparkle Punch

2 pints ginger ale
2 tablespoons lemon juice
7 slices of orange
1 pint white grapejuice
1/4 cup plain syrup.

Mix grape juice, lemon juice and syrup. Add ginger ale and pour at once into tall glasses half full of finely cracked ice. Garnish with a thin slice of orange and serve at once. Serves seven.

Mint Julep

1 quart water
1 cup orange juice
1 pint grape juice
2 cups sugar
Juice of 8 lemons
1 cup strawberry juice.

Make a syrup of sugar and water. Chop 12 sprigs of fresh mint and pour 1 1/2 cups boiling water over it. Let stand five minutes. Strain and add to the syrup. Then add the fruit juices. Chill and pour over a block of ice in punch bowl. Dilute with iced water if desired. Serves eight to ten.

Drink Served Recently

A drink which combined the qualities of mystery and piquancy was served at a recent Antioch bridge party. The hostess used the following ingredients:

1 pint grape juice
Juice of 3 large grapefruits
Juice of 2 lemons
Juice of 8 oranges.

The clever girl and her mother who recognize the importance of the little touches in being smartly dressed, should have no difficulty in squeezing those accessories into even a most economical budget, for many of fashion's favorites this season can be made of inexpensive materials.

Pique accessories, which are the note stressed in the summer costumes, include purses, hats, ascots, jackets, capes and coats, and gloves. With the exception of the gloves, these items can all be made inexpensively. Patterns can be secured or the woman who can cut out her own patterns will find an abundant supply of pictures in the fashion magazines and city department store advertisements to use as models. Plush slip covers will change an old purse into a smart addition to the costume.

Crochet string belts can be made even by the beginner. String belts, purses, hats, sweaters and capes are equally as smart as pique, in string or pastel shades.

Bathing suits are cut low in back this summer, but often surprisingly high in front. Ginghams, rubber materials, silks and rough knits are the popular materials. Dark shades, rich browns, greens, blues and reds, are popular colors. Pastels are out of the picture if one wishes to be smartly in the swim.

A neutral crêpe or black linen jacket will add dash to any wardrobe. With neutral—a deep blue, black, red, or green linen dress is smart. With the black—white, currant, the new red shade, pastels, and black one-piece dresses will complete an outfit which is smart for a day spent in the city or at the World's Fair.

The new beach dress, which is heralded as the successor to the beach pajama, is designed in wrap-around style which simplifies getting in and out of it on the beach, and it is moderately short so the legs are exposed to the sun. Those who remain portions of the beach pajama will find these garments are still being made and worn and sold.

The new headbands for keeping bobbed hair in place are being fashioned these days for all occasions. Ornamented, jeweled bands are intriguing for party wear. Bands designed especially for sports wear are practical for those who dislike bouting with a hat.

Opportunity

Men do not need more opportunities so much as they need to learn how to take advantage of present opportunities. An opportunity neglected constitutes a rebuke. The human so-called mind often seems so blind that it does not perceive a genuine opportunity. This was illustrated in the case of Hagar, who, with her child, was thirsting for drink in the wilderness. To Hagar's material thought death seemed inevitable. But when an angel, God's messenger, corrected her thinking by uplifting her vision, Hagar found her need supplied. This is but one illustration of how the claim of evil, if believed, would blind mortals to their God-bestowed opportunities.

What is an opportunity? It sometimes seems as though this question needed specific definition. It is defined in part in a dictionary as "a time, or occasion attended with propitious or favoring circumstances." Have we ever found ourselves in a position where it was impossible to do good—where there was no occasion to do good, for ourselves or others, in the service of God? Surely the opportunity for service is ever available, and is the spirit and essence of all employment. Our main trouble has been in measuring opportunity in terms of self-profit, forgetting that our own need can really be supplied only as we bless others. True service is designed for benefit and blessing our fellow man. If this sense of opportunity were grasped and utilized, unemployment would be as impossible as amalgamation of light and darkness.

Some may claim that their failure was due to a lack of opportunity, thus making opportunity the cause of success and the lack of it the cause of failure. The fact is that opportunity is a state of thought, a natural component of a spiritual, mental condition. Hope, faith, and love offer continuous opportunities, while their supposed opposites—doubt, fear, jealousy, malice, revenge. We run into disappointment when we seek material rather than spiritual gain. The acceptance of carnal suggestions blinds the vision of mortals. In this wrong state of thought one may not place the opportunity at his disposal, while he transforms it into the narrowing of your mind. That is, Allow not your thoughts to wander in mortal or evil ways, but transform your consciousness by thinking spiritual thoughts. We are to do this that we "may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." In this way only can we fulfill the grand possibilities of real being.

When we cease looking for opportunities without—from environment, person, place, or thing—and look for them in the realm of true thought, we shall not meet with disillusionment and frustration. The spiritually enlightened thought is in possession of the spiritual faculties which discern distinct and serviceable opportunities.

We always have one opportunity of employment that we seem prone to overlook. It is the opportunity of improving our thinking. When we realize the connection between our thinking and our environment, and discern the true meaning of cause and effect, we shall vigilantly increase our efforts to be faithful to Truth by thinking constructive and spiritual thoughts.—The Christian Science Monitor.

WHY IS MILK THE TOOTH FOOD?

All the scientists who have conducted experiments proving the effect of diet on teeth, agree that for healthy teeth, the diet of the child should contain about a quart of milk each day, and that the adult should have at least a pint.

The reason for this is that teeth are for the most part made of lime and phosphorus, and milk is the best single source of these two minerals. The outside layer of the crown which is the part of the tooth above the gums, is enamel; the next layer is a bone-like substance called dentine, and in the center of the tooth is the pulp composed of blood vessels, nerves and tissue-cells. The pulp of a normal tooth is a lively, healthy organ, and like all other organs of the body, it needs the right kind of nourishment.

Milk is the Best Source of Calcium. Milk supplies all the calcium needed by the body both for teeth and general health and a large portion of its phosphorus requirement. Hence, nutritionists have come to refer to milk as the "tooth-building" food, the "most nearly perfect food," and so on.

By saying that milk is the best source of these elements we mean not only that it supplies them in the largest amounts but also in the form most easily taken up and used by the body. For instance, Professor Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University has found by careful experiment that the calcium and phosphorus of milk are much more easily used than are the same minerals when they occur in vegetables. His studies disclosed the fact that for building teeth and maintaining general health every child should have a quart of milk every day, taken either as a beverage or in foods prepared with milk.

The value of milk is most clearly shown by comparing the quantities of other foods which would have to be taken to get the same amounts of calcium. For example, you would have to eat 42 pounds of meat or 30 pounds of potatoes to get as much calcium as is contained in one quart of milk, which is specified as the amount needed by children each day.

And when you drink the milk needed for good teeth, you are insuring for yourself, not only good teeth, but good health.

Fox Lake Activities

Fox Lake C. of C. Plans Attractions to Draw Visitors to Lotus Beds

Tentative plans for co-operating with other Lake County towns, particularly those of the West county lake region, in attracting Century of Progress visitors to the Lotus beds, were outlined by the board of directors of the Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce at a recent meeting called by the president, Fred Eller.

"All of Lake County will benefit by the tourist trade that can be drawn to any part of the territory," Eller states. "Those who visit the lakes may be induced to visit Zion or Fort Sheridan. The advantages of local hotels and transportation should be set forth to all visitors. The lotus beds will be a natural attraction, but we will all profit by working together."

Aces Win over Waukegan Team in Holiday Game; Play Lake Geneva Sun.

Following their victory Memorial Day over the City Service ball team of Waukegan, Antioch's Aces are looking forward with optimism to the game to be played against the Fontana team from Lake Geneva Sunday afternoon at the Antioch park.

Schneider scored a home run for Antioch in the game Tuesday in which the Waukegan players were defeated by an 8-7 score at the end of the eleventh inning. Nelson made three runs in the game and Brown two. Twelve men were struck out by the Waukegan pitcher, Richardson. Seven men went out on the pitching of Brown, Antioch man.

Butter Supply Must Be

From TR-Free Sources

Cleveland, Ohio, has a city ordinance requiring that butter sold in the city must come from the milk of cows that have passed the tuberculin test. The ordinance becomes effective January 1, 1933.

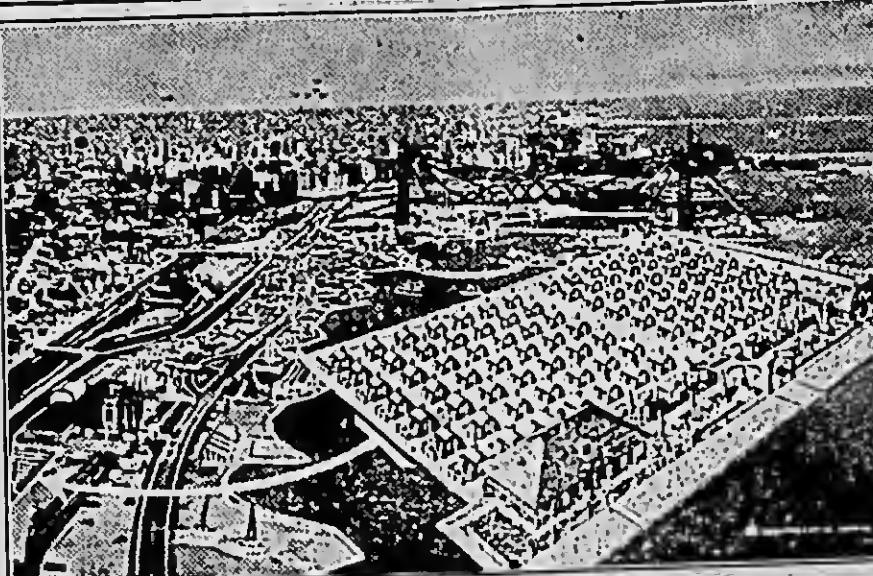

Cleveland officials anticipate no serious opposition to the enforcement of this new ordinance. Tentative arrangements have already been made for the proper labeling of butter from rubber-tuberculin tested sources so that it may be readily identified. It is understood that the term "tuberculin-tested source" means an area in which the dairy herds have been tested under federal and state supervision and which is officially designated as a "modified accredited area," that is, an area in which not more than one out of 1 per cent of the cattle are tuberculous.

EGG LAYERS IN CONTEST

International Competition at A Century of Progress

Courtesy American Poultry Journal

An aerial view of Chicago Century of Progress which will include an International Egg Laying Contest. The artist's sketch in the right foreground shows the detail of the Poultry Exhibit. Here 3,000 of the best birds of the laying breeds, specially fed and housed, will compete for individual and pen honors every week for 5 months—May 28th to October 29th, 1933.

Millions of city folks along with millions of their country cousins will have the opportunity to see at first hand the operation of modern poultry farms at the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago, May 28th to October 29th.

More than 3,000 of the best producing hens in the country will be entered in an International Egg Laying Contest under the auspices of the National Poultry Council.

The American public is not consuming the number of eggs annually that our Canadian neighbors are, according to the poultry officials. Harry C. Wood, Manager of the International Egg Laying Contest at the Century of Progress, states that Canadians eat 50 more eggs per capita than do U. S. citizens.

"One of the purposes in conducting this exhibit," says Mr. Wood, "is to make millions of new friends for the poultry industry. Also we want to demonstrate in a practical way what good quality in eggs really means."

In this effort to prove the producing ability of hens kept under proper conditions and fed according to proper feeding methods the Official Rules Committee of the Contest has decided upon an Official Egg Laying Mash and Scratch Grain which must be fed to all birds entered. After an exhaustive search for a feed that would meet all requirements the committee selected Purina Breeder Egg Chowder and Purina Non Chow.

Thus the exhibition of the poultry people will not only be recreational but informative, and as such will be one of the most valuable of the Fairs.

One of the best spaces on the ground has been reserved for the exclusive use of the poultry men. Over 100 modern poultry houses each divided into two pens housing a total of 20 females and 2 males each will form the Poultry Exhibit. At the very entrance to the Poultry Colony will be exhibition pens in which will be housed unusual breeds of chickens so that every visitor can become acquainted with the many varieties and breeds of haryard flocks.

Every week a model hatchery will produce more than 50,000 baby chicks on regular schedule. These will be packed and shipped to any point in the United States via Uncle Sam's Parcel Post Service. The wisdom of getting offspring from known producers at the Contest will be apparent.

A Brother Plant where chickens are fattened for market will produce special flocks to be sold to visitors.

It is more than a Poultry Show that is getting under way now at top speed for the Century of Progress. It is a demonstration of the value of accumulated research headed by our Agricultural Schools and turned into practical commercial service under the untiring direction of the research division of commercial feed mills.

The same feeds that will be available to the country's best hens at the Century of Progress International Egg Laying Contest are available in exactly the same form to poultry raisers in every part of the country.

Oats Replace Corn for Hogs in Purdue Ration

Swine feeding results at Purdue University, LaFayette, Ind., show that oats in rations for swine should be limited to one-half the weight of the ration. More than this weight is not used economically and gains are slower.

The corn replacement value of the oats varies according to the amount of oats used. When one-fourth of the ration was oats, one bushel of oats replaced two-thirds of a bushel of corn. Where oats made up one-half of the ration, a bushel of oats was equal to only one-half bushel of corn.
